Genesis 1:27

Parent Partners

This week we learned that God made our feet. Point out your feet and the different things they can do.

Sing (to the tune of The Farmer in the Dell):

God made my feet.

God made my feet.

I'm so happy, very happy,

God made my feet.

Spiritual Growth

Your child's first experience of love comes from you. Show him or her God's love through your actions.

- 0-12 Months—Shower your child with affection via hugs, kisses, and endearing words.
- 12-24 Months—Shower your child with affection via hugs, kisses, and endearing words.

God Made My Feet. Our feet take us where we want to go. They let us walk, run or stand in place. The average person takes 6,000 to 8,000 steps per day, which equals hundreds of tons of total force to our small feet. Short and wide, long and narrow or some combination of the two, our feet are all shapes and sizes and they work incredibly hard. Our first steps are a wobbly balance, a few steps forward, and a crash landing back on the ground. As our feet get stronger we are better able to walk further and faster. When we get older and begin to make decisions about who we will see, where we will go and what we will do, it's our feet that take us there. We may choose to walk through a beautiful garden, or next door to help a friend. We may jog around the block to get it shape, or stand steady on our feet while supporting a friend. We may also let our feet take us to a group that's gossiping, to watch something we shouldn't or go somewhere we know isn't good. God gave us our feet so we could be His feet for others. Let's thank Him for giving us this independence and ability to choose where our feet will take us. Let's thank Him, and always be aware of where we choose to go.

This week when we sing If You're Happy & You Know It Stomp Your Feet, stomp them super loud and think about the sound they make when they hit the floor. Then remember to clap your hands, shout AMEN, and do all three. Love you all, miss you every day, and look forward to maybe seeing some of you this weekend.
